CHOICE OF VOTERS.

Cities and Towns in Ohio and Michigan Elect Officers.

SHOWING MADE BY EARLY RETURNS.

Mayor McKisson Defeated for Reelection in Cleveland—Columbus Elects Its First Republican Mayor in Twelve Years.

Cleveland, O., April 4.—There is no doubt that Farley (dem.) has been elected mayor by 3,000 majority over McKisson, the present incumbent. Mc-Kisson runs away behind his ticket in every precinct, and while he is defeated, it is probable that the remainder of the republican ticket, including the candidates for treasurer, police judge, police prosecutor, justice of the peace and four members of the school council will be elected by substantial pluralities.
The republicans will probably retain control of the city council.

McKisson's defeat was due to the defection of the republicans who voted against him because of his betrayal of Senator Hanna and his party during the contest before the legislature a year ago last winter. The whole ticket suffered somewhat on account of the opposition to McKisson, but not enough to defeat any of the other candidates.
The election was orderly in most respects.

In Columbus.

Columbus, O., April 4.—Samuel L.
Black (dem.), mayor of Columbus, was defeated for re-election by Samuel J.
Schwartz (rep.), formerly police judge, by a decisive majority. Mayor Black is president of the League of American Municipalities, and this fact was used as an argument in support of his candidacy by the party managers. The election was fought on strictly party lines, however, and was one of the most bitterly contested in the history of the city, the total vote cast, 27,264, being heavier than at the gubernatorial election last fall. Judge Swartz is the first republican elected mayor of the city in 12 years. The city is nominally republican by about 1,000, though it has given majorities of upwards of 3,000. The vote Monday was as follows: Swartz (rep.), 14,141; Black (dem.), 12,753.
Swartz's plurality, 1,393. There were three minor party candidates, but they polled an insignificant vote. All other candidates on the republican city ticket were elected.

In Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 4.—Weather conditions were favorable to a full vote at the Cincinnati municipal election, yet only 43,500 votes were cast. There were only three officials to be elected: Judge of the superior court and two members of the board of city affairs. The republican candidates were elected by an average majority of 6,976.

In Michigan.

Detroit, April 4.—Meager returns from the state indicate that Judge Grant for supreme court justice was heavily cut in the cities, but that he receives the usual republican majorities through the rural districts. The two republican candidates for regents of the university are undoubtedly elected.

Returns from 105 precincts in this city out of 120, show that Murphy (dem.), for judge of the recorder's court, will be elected by 700 majority, and that Phelan (dem.), for associate judge, will receive a majority of 2,500.
The indications are that Hosmer, Pound and McGrath (dem.), and Carpenter and Donovan (rep.), are elected circuit judges of this county.

At Grand Rapids the democrats elected R. L. Newnam judge of the superior court, but the remainder of the ticket is still in doubt at midnight. The democrats elected seven out of twelve aldermen, making the new council stand: Democrats, 17; republicans, 7.

At Ludington full city returns give Cartier (rep.) 137 majority for mayor.
The democrats elect a majority of the city council, making the municipal offices stand the same politically as last year.

Clearwater elects the entire republican ticket, excepting marshal. Clayton C. Johnson is elected mayor by 572 majority. The state ticket receives a republican majority. No change in the city politically from last year except in increased majorities.

At Jackson Mayor Loennecker (dem.) is reelected by about 1,000 majority.
Last year he had 254.

At Saginaw the results are somewhat

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

The Nation to Pay Honors to Her Soldier Dead.

AN ORDER BY PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

Remains of About 350 Departed Heroes Who Fell in the War to Be Interred in Arlington Cemetery Next Thursday.

Washington, April 4.—Arrangements have been practically completed for the funeral ceremonies on the occasion of the reinterment in Arlington cemetery at two o'clock Thursday afternoon of the remains of about 350 soldiers and civilians who lost their lives either as a result of wounds or disease in the campaign of Santiago and Porto Rico. The ceremonies will be of the simplest character, being confined to the commitment service, conducted by Post Chaplain Charles W. Freeland, who has been summoned here from the military post at Fort Monroe for that purpose. Full military honors will be paid the memory of the patriot dead, and all the regular troops in this vicinity, the District national guard and a battalion of marines will participate in the ceremonies at the cemetery. Col. Francis L. Guen-ther, of the Fourth artillery, will have command of the military exercises. The remains of 150 of the heroes of the war have already been deposited in tents near the spot selected for their interment, and it is expected that the remaining 200 bodies will be brought on from Jersey City to-day or to-morrow. The president and most of the officials of the administration in the city will attend the funeral services. President McKinley has issued the following executive order in connection with the interments:

"It is fitting that in behalf of the nation tributes of honor be paid to the memories of the noble men who lost their lives in their country's service during the late war with Spain. It is the more fitting inasmuch as in consonance with the spirit of our free institutions, and in obedience to the most exalted promptings of patriotism, those who were sent to other shores to battle for their country's honor under the flag of Cuba and Porto Rico, every quarter of our beloved land. Each soldier, each sailor parting from home ties and putting behind him private interests in the presence of the stern emergency of unsought war with an alien foe was an individual type of that devotion of the citizen to the state which makes our nation strong in unity and in action.

"Those who died in another land left in many homes the undying memories that attend the heroic dead of all ages. It was fitting that with the advent of peace, won by their sacrifice, their bodies should be gathered with tender care and restored to home and kindred. This has been done with the dead of Cuba and Porto Rico.
Those of the Philippines still rest where they fell, watched over by their surviving comrades and crowned with the love of a grateful nation.

"The remains of many brought to our shores have been delivered to their families for private burial. But for others of the brave officers and men who perished there has been reserved interment in ground sacred to the soldiers and sailors and the tributes of military honor and national mourning they have so well deserved.

"I therefore order: That upon the arrival of the cortege at the national cemetery at Arlington all proper military and naval honors be paid to the dead heroes; that suitable ceremonies shall attend their interment; that the customary salute of mourning be fired at the cemetery and that on the same day at two o'clock p. m., Thursday, the sixth day of April, the national flag be displayed at half staff on all public buildings, forts, camps and public vessels of the United States, and that at 12 o'clock, noon, of said day all the departments of the government at Washington shall be closed.

"WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

"Executive Mansion, April 3, 1899."

In the same communication, Acting Secretary of War Meiklejohn issued this order:

"The remains of officers and soldiers who lost their lives in the war with Spain during the operations in Cuba and Porto Rico will be interred with due and fitting ceremonies in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va., on Thursday, April 6, at two p. m.

"By direction of the president, all of the United States troops serving in the vicinity of Washington, together with the national guard of the District of Columbia, will be assembled at Arlington on the date in question to participate in the funeral ceremonies."

LETTER OF THANKS.

Redyard Kipling Publicly Acknowledges the Many Kindnesses Shown Him During His Illness.

New York, April 4.—The following letter of thanks has been written by Redyard Kipling:

"Hotel Grenoble, Easter Day, 1899.—Dear Sir: Will you allow me through your colleague to express my sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown me during my illness."

TO EXCHANGE TREATIES.

The Last Act in the War with Spain to Be Consummated
This Week.

Washington, April 4.—Before the end of this week President McKinley will issue a formal proclamation announcing that war with Spain has ended.
The Spanish copy of the Paris treaty, signed by the queen, is on its way to Washington.

It is addressed to M. Cambon, the French minister here, and will be presented by him to the president. M. Cam-bon, as the representative of Spain, will receive a copy of the treaty signed by the president and approved by the senate, and will forward it to Madrid.
As soon as the formalities of exchange have been completed the president will issue the peace proclamation.

This will be given to the representatives of foreign nations, and will be cabled to Manila and to Cuba and Porto Rico. The principal effect of this proclamation will be to end the enlistment term of most of the volunteers. Allowing a reasonable time for mustering out and transportation here, the men will be entitled to quit the service.

Gen. Otis reports that the volunteers in the Philippines do not care to take advantage of their technical rights, but want to stay in the service as long as there is any fighting to be done. The president intends, however, that they shall be gradually replaced by regulars, who are now in readiness to be sent.
Before the end of this month 10,000 regulars will depart from San Francisco for service about Manila.

IS A CENTURY OLD.

The Bank of Manhattan, New York City, Celebrates Its One Hundredth Anniversary.

New York, April 4.—The Bank of Manhattan was 100 years old Monday, and in the evening the centennial was celebrated with a banquet at Sherry's, at which about 100 guests were present.
Though the gathering was not large, it probably represented the largest aggregation of capital ever seen about a banquet table in this or any other city.
Every guest was a president of a leading bank or prominent trust company in New York, and it is estimated that the money interests represented will reach the enormous total of $1,750,000, 000.

The Bank of Manhattan is not only one of the oldest and soundest financial institutions in the city, but has also had a most interesting career since it was founded by Aaron Burr 100 years ago. The bank was established by Burr as a rival to the Bank of New York. He knew that he could not obtain a charter for a bank from the legislature, so he drew up a charter for a water company, with a quiet clause in it empowering the company to employ its surplus capital in the purchase of public and other stocks or in any other moneyed transactions or operations not inconsistent with the constitution or laws of the state. The legislature granted the charter to the supposed waterworks company. The company did build and operate a waterworks on a small scale, but it also opened a bank, which has long outlived the waterworks.

TRAGEDY IN MINNEAPOLIS.

A Love-Sick Miller Kills the Object of His Affection, and Shoots Himself.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 4.—John McGraw, a miller, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Stacey Miller Monday afternoon, and then shot himself. Mrs.
Miller kept a boarding house, and Mc-Graw has been living there three years.
He was in love with the woman, who,
for a long time, returned his affection, but lately she had treated him coldly, and Monday morning, it is said, requested him to leave the house. After dinner he went out and procured a revolver, and, returning, called Mrs.
Miller into the parlor, where, after a few words had passed, the tragedy occurred. The couple were about 30 years of age, and were connected with families well known throughout the state.

Heavy Output of Steel.

Joliet, Ill., April 4.—The heaviest output in the history of the Joliet plant of the Illinois Steel Company was made last month. Several world's records were broken. The converting mill during March turned out 50,547 tons of steel, beating the world's record for two vessel plants by 2,000 tons. The billet mill turned out 42,400 tons, an average of 793 tons each turn. The best previous record was 40,201 tons, made here in January last. The rod mill made 16,240 tons finished rods, averaging 312 tons every turn. The best previous record was 15,600 tons, made here January last.

Politics is a mocker, politics is raging, and whosoever partaketh thereof is not wise.

The statement having been made on the streets that the Argus had reprinted the letter by a Republican headed "Gov. Pingree's Ultimatum," which were distributed to the voters this morning, it is but fair to state that these circulars were not printed at the Argus office, and as far as the Argus knows no Democrat had anything to do with their publication.—Argus.

Ashamed of the letter, are you?
What's the difference, whether you publish a roor-aback letter in a newspaper or in a circular?

Returns from the state on supreme judge and regents of the state university, estimated and official, show that Justice Claudius B. Grant is elected by more than 30,000 majority. These figures are likely to be increased by the official vote. Judge Grant was cut in some of the cities by workingmen. For this reason he may run slightly behind the regents. Little attention apparently was paid to the constitutional amendments, submitted to the people, but the chances are that all carried.

It did not take Secretary Hay more than about two minutes to convince the two Cubans sent to Washington to try to get the $3,000,000, promised through Gen. Gomez, to the Cuban soldiers, increased, or the consent of the president to an issue of bonds by the Cuban assembly, that they had wasted the money spent on the trip. The substance of Secretary Hay's remarks might be thus expressed: "Not a cent more; not a bond." The delegates, or whatever you might call them, started for home without having seen the president at all, having been assured by Secretary Hay that it was useless for them to try.

Uncle Sam will soon be in the market for silver bullion, for the first time since the repeal of the Sherman act, over which there was such a furor. True, the amount to be purchased is not large, only enough to mint the 50,000 Lafayette souvenir silver dollars ordered by act of congress, to be given to the Lafayette monument commission, to be sold to help defray the expenses of the Lafayette monument to be erected in Paris as a present from Americans to France.
July 4, of next year, has been set for the unveiling of the statue. The Lafayette dollar is to have a special design, which has not yet been fully determined upon.

A new indication of the existence of real brotherly feeling between Americans and Englishmen was given by the suggestion, made in the committee that is arranging the parades which are to be a feature of the big peace jubilee, to be held in Washington May 22-26, that a special British feature be provided for in the parade of the Twenty-fourth, which will be the anniversary of Queen Victoria's birthday, in honor of that day. The suggestion was received with enthusiasm and immediate steps to carry it into effect were taken by appointing a sub-committee to confer with Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, for the purpose of securing his co-operation. By the way, this peace jubilee is going to be quite a spectacular event, and it will be held when Washington is at its best, from the sight-seeing standpoint.

The result of the municipal elections yesterday must be acknowledged by good citizens to be generally satisfactory. The various offices have been about equally divided, and the successful candidates have been flattered with good majorities. It is surprising that the Republican candidates fared so well in the face of the roor-a-backs sprung upon them in the eleventh hour, espe-the natives of Samoa, who were apparently supported by the German officials there, lest the mix-up should lead to trouble with Germany; but instead of trouble, it seems likely that it will lead to a satisfactory straightening out of the whole kinky Samoan business, as representatives of Germany, Great Britain and the United States, the three parties to the treaty under which Samoa has been governed for some years, have agreed to the appointment of a joint high commission, authorized to make a new arrangement for the government of the Samoan islands that will be permanent and, it is hoped, satisfactory.

NEXT TUESDAY

Col. Roosevelt Will Certainly Be Here.

All Exercises in the University Will Be Suspended at 11 O'clock and the Students Will Assemble in the Hall to Listen to the Hero of San Juan Hill.

The Times can now state upon definite authority that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, governor of New York and colonel of the rough riders, will be here next Tuesday morning.

Gov. Roosevelt will be on his way to Chicago, where a banquet will be given him. He has consented to stop off here and speak to the students.

The program thus far arranged is that the exercises in the University will be entirely suspended at 11 o'clock and the students will assemble in the vast auditorium and listen to his address.

Just how long he will remain in the city is not known.

The hero of San Juan hill undoubtedly will be accorded one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever tendered him while in this city.

RIGHT KIND OF A GUARDIAN.

Sedgwick Dean, as guardian for Geo.
Sutton, incompetent, today filed in the probate court his twenty-ninth annual account. Mr. Dean took this estate when it inventoried about $5,000. It now amounts to nearly $12,000. This speaks well for Mr. Dean's business ability.

TOMORROW

Young Lady Who Wouldn't be Kissed by Hobson

Will Be Here—She and Three Other Noted Southern Beauties Will Be the Guests of the Zeta Psi Fraternity —Came North to Attend the Quinby-DeFunck Wedding.

The Zeta Psi fraternity tomorrow will entertain as its guests four noted Southern beauties, who came to Michigan to attend the Quinby-De Funck wedding in Detroit. They will be present at the Comedy club's performance at the Athens theatre tomorrow evening.

Miss Bertha Woodward, of Birmingham, Ala., is among the guests. She is reputed to be one of the most brilliant women of that state.

Miss Douglass Quarrier, of Louisville, Ky., is a regal Southern beauty, possessing to an unusual degree the grace and loveliness of a typical Kentucky belle. In every city she has a social entree, and in the festivities of the coming wedding Miss Quarrier will be one of the most popular guests. Interest in this famous beauty is heightened by the attention directed toward her refusal to be kissed by Hobson on his visit to Louisville last winter, an incident that was reported admiringly by the people and press of many states.

The incident which gave Miss Quarrier so much prominence occurred at McCauley's theatre during a visit of Lieut. Hobson in Louisville. The hero, with a party of ladies and gentlemen, occupied a box at the theatre prior to a banquet to be given in his honor at the Louisville hotel. His appearance was greeted by a storm of applause, and after a short address, made between the acts, he returned to the box in which, among others, was seated Miss Quarrier. Someone suggested to the lieutenant that he kiss her, but when he offered to do so the young lady said:

A G. O. P. VICTORY

Old Washtenaw is Now Wholly In Republican Column.

The Republicans Elect Kinne For Judge. Lister For School Commissioner, a Majority On the Board of Supervisors and Will Control the Ann Arbor Council—About the Only Grain of Comfort the Democrats Have is the Election of Luick for Mayor of Ann Arbor.

The returns are not all in yet from the rural districts, but show the following: For justice of the supreme court, all but Ann Arbor town, Augusta, Bridgewater, Freedom, Lodi, Manchester, Sharon, Superior and Ypsilanti town have been heard from, and including the cities of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti give Grant 3,274 and Barkworth 2,908.

Counting in as estimated majorities the following: Ann Arbor town, 10 dem.; Augusta, 50 rep.; Bridgewater, 75 dem.; Freedom, 95 dem.; Manchester, 25 dem.; Sharon, 40 dem.; Superior, 35 dem.; Ypsilanti town, 90 rep., it will make the relative vote stand: Grant, 3,414; Barkworth, 3,188.

For regents, in addition to the above towns, the reports are not in yet from Salem, Lima and York, and the Democratic vote in Dexter, Plattsfield, Seio and Webster have not been reported.
The figures at hand show the following:
Sutton, 2,898; Dean, 3,255; Parkhill, 1,854; Le Gendre, 1,931.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

For circuit judge the reports from all but Augusta, Bridgewater and Freedom have been received and show that Kinne receives 3,843 and Cavanaugh 2,676 in this county. There are many who are sanguine enough to think that Mr. Kinne will hold his own in these three missing towns, i. e., that he will run even with Mr. Cavanaugh in these places. If he does he will carry Washtenaw county by 1,172 majority.

Advices from Monroe county state that Mr. Cavanaugh will not carry that county by over 200; and conservative estimates based upon 16 precincts show that he will possibly have but 150.

It is safe to say that Mr. Kinne is elected by 1,000 majority in the two counties.

FOR SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

Mr. Lister is elected by a good big majority. The only townships missing in the count are Ann Arbor town, Augusta, Bridgewater, Freedom, Northfield, Sharon and Superior. Those that are in show the vote to be: Lister, 3,456; Hoppe, 2,660. Mr. Hoppe did not know he was running for surveyor last fall.
Judging from the above returns, he will hardly realize that he was running this spring. Estimating that Lister will carry Augusta by 45 and that Hoppe will receive the following majorities: Ann Arbor town 10, Bridgewater 75, Freedom 100, Northfield 50, Sharon 40, Superior 35 (which are liberal estimates to Mr. Hoppe), it will be seen that Mr.
Lister will have 500 majority in the county.

HAD A SCARE.

Cuban Guerillas Fired Some Shots
Into the Thirty-First.

PLACETAS, Cuba, March 28.—Junius E. Beal, of Ann Arbor, who is one of Secretary Alger's party visiting Cuba, left the steamer Paris at Cienfuegos to visit his friends in Co. A at this place.
He left for Havana this morning, where he will rejoin the party.

Quite a commotion was caused in the little camp of Co. A here last night by the firing of several shots over the camp from outside. The bullets whistled dangerously near and nearly everyone was aroused and prepared for a surprise from some guerilla band. No more shots were fired, however, and the men crawled back into their cots and slept with their trusty Krags within easy reach. It is supposed that the firing party was a band of guerillas.

HAS SAILED

Transport Logan Gone After the 31st Mich.

The Regiment Will Be Mustered Out In Either Atlanta or Augusta and Will Get $40,000 or $50,000 for Travel Pay.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A telegram was received at the war department this afternoon stating that the transport Logan had sailed from Savannah for Cienfuegos to bring home the Thirty-first Michigan volunteers. While it cannot be positively stated exactly where the Logan will land the Michigan troops, Col. Bird, of the Quartermaster's department, told a correspondent today that he transport would sail either for Atlanta or Savannah, and that the Thirty-first regiment would be mustered out either in Augusta or Atlanta. This means that the Michigan boys will get their much coveted travel pay, which for the entire regiment will amount to forty or fifty thousand dollars, a very tidy sum that doubtless ultimately will be disbursed by the soldiers to Michigan's retail merchants.

Gen. Brooke, commanding the department of Cuba, has telegraphed Co. Gardener to transfer his regiment from Amara and Santa Clara to Cienfuegos as soon as possible, and to embark immediately upon the arrival of the transport. While definite advices as to the movement of the regiment have not been received, Col. Bird calculates that the transport will sail from Cienfuegos in time to arrive at Atlanta or Savannah by Sunday or Monday next. Under the quarantine laws the transport will not be permitted to put the troops on shore, but will be obliged to lie at anchor for the period of five days after fumigation. The department is endeavoring to secure a modification of this regulation with a view to landing the soldiers or transferring them to a barge on which they would be more comfortable than upon a transport, but at the present writing nothing has been accomplished in this direction.

1,600 SPLIT TICKETS.

Only About One-Third of the Ballots
In the City Elections Were "Straight."

That there was a large number of split tickets yesterday is shown by the table below of straight tickets voted in Ann Arbor's municipal election. It is impossible to give the straight tickets in the Third ward as they have a peculiar system of their own in that precinct which always trails along in the rear of the procession in making returns, which do not show the straight or split tickets, and which can only be cured by the introduction of an instructor from the First or Fourth wards, or the introduction of a voting machine. The total number of votes cast in the city on municipal officers was about 2,500.

The resultant of the two political "pulls" in the city, as manifested in yesterday's election, is as follows: Mayor, E. P. Allen (Republican); supervisor from the first district, Sumner Damon (Republican); supervisor from the second district, Elmer McCullough (Democrat); constable from the first district, P. W.
Ross (Democrat); constable from the second district, Millard R. Fletcher (Democrat); alderman from the first ward, Clifford Huston (Democrat); alderman from the second ward, John VanFossen (Republican); alderman from the third ward, Squire Lappeus (Republican); alderman from the fourth ward, Frank Worden (Democrat); alderman from the fifth ward, William A. Moore (Democrat).

The question of majorities was worked out as follows: E. P. Allen came in with 219; Sumner Damon landed by 276; Elmer McCullough had 197 to spare; P. W.
Ross rejoiced in a majority of 117; Millard Fletcher won out by 105; Clifford Huston persuaded his colored friends by 35; John VanFossen captured the second cal profession by 58; Frank Worden emerged from the fray with a credit mark of 26; W. A. Moore recaptured the fifth by 65.

Duke of York as a Carpenter.

It is not generally known that the Duke of York is an expert carpenter.
And, if necessity arose, could handle a plane or use a chisel with many a man who earns his livelihood in this way.
An interesting story is told of him in this respect. Some years ago the late Duke of Clarence locked his younger brother out of a room into which he particularly wished to enter. The Duke of York, then Prince George, simply hinted that if his brother did not open the door he would quietly put his foot through a panel of it. No heed was paid to this threat, and after a lapse of a minute or two, Prince George proceeded to carry it into execution. After this was done, conscience smote him and he knew he would get into a bother. So he obtained the necessary wood and set to work at once, planed another panel, put it in the door, got the bright-colored paint to match the other panels, and no one was any the wiser.

"Gov. Pingree's Ultimatum," which were distributed to the voters this morning. It is but fair to state that these circulars were not printed at the Argus office, and as far as the Argus knows no Democrat had anything to do with their publication.—Argus.

Asbamed of the letter, are you? What's the difference, whether you publish a roor-aback letter in a newspaper or in a circular?

Returns from the state on supreme judge and regents of the state university, estimated and official, show that Justice Claudius B. Grant is elected by more than 30,000 majority. These figures are likely to be increased by the official vote. Judge Grant was cut in some of the cities by workingmen. For this reason he may run slightly behind the regents. Little attention apparently was paid to the constitutional amendments, submitted to the people, but the chances are that all carried.

It did not take Secretary Hay more than about two minutes to convince the two Cubans sent to Washington to try to get the $3,000,000, promised through Gen. Gomez, to the Cuban soldiers, increased, or the consent of the president to an issue of bonds by the Cuban assembly, that they had wasted the money spent on the trip. The substance of Secretary Hay's remarks might be thus expressed: "Not a cent more; not a bond." The delegates, or whatever you might call them, started for home without having seen the president at all, having been assured by Secretary Hay that it was useless for them to try.

Uncle Sam will soon be in the market for silver bullion, for the first time since the repeal of the Sherman act, over which there was such a furore. True, the amount to be purchased is not large, only enough to mint the 50,000 Lafayette souvenir silver dollars ordered by act of congress, to be given to the Lafayette monument commission, to be sold to help defray the expenses of the Lafayette monument to be erected in Paris as a present from Americans to France. July 4, of next year, has been set for the unveiling of the statue. The Lafayette dollar is to have a special design, which has not yet been fully determined upon.

A new indication of the existence of real brotherly feeling between Americans and Englishmen was given by the suggestion, made in the committee that is arranging the parades which are to be a feature of the big peace jubilee, to be held in Washington May 22-26, that a special British feature be provided for in the parade of the Twenty-fourth, which will be the anniversary of Queen Victoria's birthday, in honor of that day. The suggestion was received with enthusiasm and immediate steps to carry it into effect were taken by appointing a sub-committee to confer with Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, for the purpose of securing his co-operation. By the way, this peace jubilee is going to be quite a spectacular event, and it will be held when Washington is at its best, from the sight-seeing standpoint.

The result of the municipal elections yesterday must be acknowledged by good citizens to be generally satisfactory. The various offices have been about equally divided, and the successful candidates have been flattered with good majorities. It is surprising that the Republican candidates fared so well in the face of the roor-a-backs sprung upon them in the eleventh hour, especially the one published in the Argus. It placed the Republicans at a disadvantage for the reason that they were unable to refute the misstatements contained in the malicious letter. It, no doubt, led to the defeat of Allick A. Pearson, who was handicapped in not being enabled to personally appear upon the scene and making the necessary explanations. He has been confined to his bed with sickness, which, coupled with the effects of the cowardly roor-a-back, gave the election to his opponent. The man who wrote the letter in the Argus and screened himself under the signature, "A Republican," is a coward, and to publish the letter was certainly unfair.

The events of the past week, in connection with our foreign relations, have been calculated to create a feeling of satisfaction. Aguinaldo has been driven out of his so-called capital and his army broken up into scattered bodies which must hereafter fight as guerrillas, if at all, and it is confidently expected that Aguinaldo will save his carcass by getting out of American jurisdiction at the first opportunity, if he has not already done so. About the middle of the week there was much uneasiness because of the news that American and English warships had fired on some of authority that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, governor of New York and co-leader of the rough riders, will be here next Tuesday morning.

Gov. Roosevelt will be on his way to Chicago, where a banquet will be given him. He has consented to stop off here and speak to the students.

The program thus far arranged is that the exercises in the University will be entirely suspended at 11 o'clock and the students will assemble in the vast auditorium and listen to his address.

Just how long he will remain in the city is not known.

The hero of San Juan hill undoubtedly will be accorded one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever tendered him while in this city.

RIGHT KIND OF A GUARDIAN.

Sedgewick Dean, as guardian for Geo. Sutton, incompetent, today filed in the probate court his twenty-ninth annual account. Mr. Dean took this estate when it inventoried about $5,000. It now amounts to nearly $12,000. This speaks well for Mr. Dean's business ability.

Young Lady Who Wouldn't be Kissed by Hobson

Will Be Here—She and Three Other Noted Southern Beauties Will Be the Guests of the Zeta Psi Fraternity—Come North to Attend the Quinby-DeFuneak Wedding.

The Zeta Psi fraternity tomorrow will entertain as its guests four noted Southern beauties, who came to Michigan to attend the Quinby-De Funiak wedding in Detroit. They will be present at the Comedy club's performance at the Athens theatre tomorrow evening.

Miss Bertha Woodward, of Birmingham, Ala., is among the guests. She is reputed to be one of the most brilliant women of that state.

Miss Douglass Quarrier, of Louisville, Ky., is a regal Southern beauty, possessing to an unusual degree the grace and loveliness of a typical Kentucky belle. In every city she has a social entree, and in the festivities of the coming wedding Miss Quarrier will be one of the most popular guests. Interest in this famous beauty is heightened by the attention directed toward her refusal to be kissed by Hobson on his visit to Louisville last winter, an incident that was reported admiringly by the people and press of many states.

The incident which gave Miss Quarrier so much prominence occurred at McCauley's theatre during a visit of Lieut. Hobson in Louisville. The hero, with a party of ladies and gentlemen, occupied a box at the theatre prior to a banquet to be given in his honor at the Louisville hotel. His appearance was greeted by a storm of applause, and after a short address, made between the acts, he returned to the box in which, among others, was seated Miss Quarrier. Someone suggested to the lieutenant that he kiss her, but when he offered to do so the young lady frigidly drew away from him and left the box. The audience saw the whole scene and was intensely amused, and the lieutenant himself laughed as heartily as anybody.

Miss Elizabeth Shelley, of Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Nora Leary, of Atlanta, Ga., are the other two guests of the fraternity.

WHO IS SHE?

The following dispatch appeared in this morning's Free Press:

Toledo, O., April 3.—The police today returned Ida Forrest, a girl of 20, to her home in Ann Arbor. She was found last night on the streets and apparently demented. She has been about the city for some days, and it was thought at that time that she was all right, but her mind is now badly unbalanced and she was unable to take care of herself.

The police here know nothing about the case, and no such name as Ida Forrest appears in the directory. Who is she?

When every walk in life is crowded the boy or girl who is best fitted stands the best show of success. The Detroit Museum Art School, Detroit, Mich., will give a good training to the artist or artisan. Write for particulars.

Augusta, 50 rep.; Bridgewater and Freedom, 95 dem.; Manchester, 25 dem.; Sharon, 40 dem.; Superior, 35 dem.; Ypsilanti town, 90 rep., it will make the relative vote stand: Grant, 3,414; Barkworth, 3,188.

For regents, in addition to the above towns, the reports are not in yet from Salem, Lima and York, and the Democratic vote in Dexter, Pitsfield, Scio and Webster have not been reported. The figures at hand show the following: Sutton, 2,898; Dean, 3,255; Parkhill, 1,854; Le Gendre, 1,931.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

For circuit judge the reports from all but Augusta, Bridgewater and Freedom have been received and show that Kinne receives 3,848 and Cavanaugh 2,676 in this county. There are many who are sanguine enough to think that Mr. Kinne will hold his own in these three missing towns, i. e., that he will run even with Mr. Cavanaugh in these places. If he does he will carry Washtenaw county by 1,172 majority.

Advices from Monroe county state that Mr. Cavanaugh will not carry that county by over 200, and conservative estimates based upon 16 precincts show that he will possibly have but 150.

It is safe to say that Mr. Kinne is elected by 1,000 majority in the two counties.

FOR SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

Mr. Lister is elected by a good big majority. The only townships missing in the count are Ann Arbor town, Augusta, Bridgewater, Freedom, Northfield, Sharon and Superior. Those that are in show the vote to be: Lister, 3,456; Hoppe, 2,660. Mr. Hoppe did not know he was running for surveyor last fall. Judging from the above returns, he will hardly realize that he was running this spring. Estimating that Lister will carry Augusta by 45 and that Hoppe will receive the following majorities: Ann Arbor town 10, Bridgewater 75, Freedom 100, Northfield 50, Sharon 40, Superior 35 (which are liberal estimates to Mr. Hoppe), it will be seen that Mr. Lister will have 500 majority in the county.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—A telegram was received at the war department this afternoon stating that the transport Logan had sailed from Savannah for Cienfuegos to bring home the Thirty-first Michigan volunteers. While it cannot be positively stated exactly where the Logan will land the Michigan troops, Col. Bird, of the Quartermaster's department, told a correspondent today that he transport would sail either for Atlanta or Savannah, and that the Thirty-first regiment would be mustered out either in Augusta or Atlanta. This means that the Michigan boys will get their much coveted travel pay, which for the entire regiment will amount to forty or fifty thousand dollars, a very tidy sum that doubtless ultimately will be disbursed by the soldiers to Michigan's retail merchants.

Gen. Brooke, commanding the department of Cuba, has telegraphed Co. Gardner to transfer his regiment from Amaro and Santa Clara to Cienfuegos as soon as possible, and to embark immediately upon the arrival of the transport. While definite advices as to the movement of the regiment have not been received, Col. Bird calculates that the transport will sail from Cienfuegos in time to arrive at Atlanta or Savannah by Sunday or Monday next. Under the quarantine laws the transport will not be permitted to put the troops on shore, but will be obliged to lie at anchor for the period of five days after fumigation. The department is endeavoring to secure a modification of this regulation with a view to landing the soldiers or transferring them to a barge on which they would be more comfortable than upon a transport, but at the present writing nothing has been accomplished in this direction.

Only About One-Third of the Ballots in the City Elections Were "Straight."

That there was a large number of split tickets yesterday is shown by the table below of straight tickets voted in Ann Arbor's municipal election. It is impossible to give the straight tickets in the Third ward as they have a peculiar system of their own in that precinct which always trails along in the rear of the procession in making returns, which do not show the straight or split tickets, and which can only be cured by the introduction of an instructor from the First or Fourth wards, or the introduction of a voting machine. The total number of votes cast in the city on municipal officers was about 2,500.

Rep. Dem.

First ward.....92	63
Second ward.....69	161
Third ward.....108	56
Fourth ward.....45	48
Fifth ward.....82	26
Sixth ward.....83	38
Seventh ward.....479	398

This makes a total of 877, and counting in 150 straight tickets, which is a doubtful allowance in the Third ward, it shows that nearly 1,600 voters cast split tickets.

CYRANO DE BERGERAC.

The most talked of play that ever came to this country, "Cyrano de Bergerac," is to be seen here next Tuesday. Ever since Coquelin, the greatest living French actor, first produced this remarkable drama in Paris, interest in its American production has been life and its appearance looked forward to with the greatest interest by theatre-goers of the better class, and more particularly thinkers and students. As is well known, its first appearance on this side of the water was given by Richard Mansfield in New York, and on the same night by Augustin Daly's company in Philadelphia. Since then it has appeared for lengthy runs in all principal eastern cities, and now it comes to us, not with Mansfield as the star, but an actor who is known to be one of the best in this country, Mr. Willard Newell, supported by Miss Vail De Vernon and a large, efficient and carefully selected company of thirty people, together with all the wealth of scenery, gorgeous costumes, magnificent properties and wonderful electrical and calcium effects of the original production.

The servant girl question has been a trying one with housewives from time immemorial. Charles E. This is a musical comedy in the strictest sense of the word, and is founded on a substantial plot. Edith Mandel, the famous Page Sisters, accompanied by their band of pickaninies; Gus Pixley, John R. Cumpson, Hart Reagan, Lillian Maynard and the Shuman Sisters, besides innumerable others.

Without a doubt the concert in Germania hall last evening eclipsed anything ever given in the history of Ann Arbor German musical circles. Each number on the program received enthusiastic encores from a thousand people that packed the hall to its doors. The work of Miss Caspary, Miss Davis and Mr. Martin was very well received. Mr. Saunders, violinist, and Mr. Crego, cornetist, deserve special mention. Ryan and Seabolt brought down the house as usual, and were recalled three times to repeat their funny, mirth-provoking antics. Then "our Jim" Harkins appeared amid bursts of applause; he was compelled to respond three times, and at the last said: "Have all fun you want; I am feeling pretty good tonight." Three cheers for him. The city clerk were given and Jim had to sing again. The work of the Harburg Maennerchor deserves much credit. Under the direction of Mr. Frank McIntyre they gave two very pretty choruses and were compelled to respond. They show much improvement in their work in former concerts, and Mr. McIntyre although young has proved himself an able musician and a conscientious director. The concert was a success in every respect and a goodly sum was made for the worthy cause for which it was given.

This year they will go East as far as Pittsburg, inspecting many of the factories in which they are interested. Several cities will be visited, the longest stay being at Pittsburg.

The general program of the trip will be about as follows: Leaving Ann Arbor on Friday, April 14, they will go direct to Niagara Falls. Saturday and Sunday will be spent here in examining the power plants and manufacturing establishments. On Sunday evening they will leave Niagara Falls and go direct to Pittsburg. A stay of five days will be made in Pittsburg, as there are several plants of much interest to be visited. Among the varieties which they intend to investigate are different blast furnaces, iron and steel mills, glass works and coal mines. Also Carnegie's works at Homestead, Pennsylvania tube works, Pittsburg locomotive works and other mills will be inspected. On Friday, April 21, they will leave Pittsburg for Cleveland. A one day stop will be made here, the chief factory of interest being the shipyards. On Saturday night the party will leave on the night boat for Detroit, where they will disband.

Prof. M. E. Cooley goes in advance of the party to make the final arrangements for the trip. He will have direct charge of the students while on the trip. Mr. Grimes will also accompany them. It is expected that the party will be composed mostly of junior mechanical engineers.

CYRANO DE BERGERAC.

The most talked of play that ever came to this country, "Cyrano de Bergerac," is to be seen here next Tuesday. Ever since Coquelin, the greatest living French actor, first produced this remarkable drama in Paris, interest in its American production has been rife and its appearance looked forward to with the greatest interest by theatre-goers of the better class, and more particularly thinkers and students. As is well known, its first appearance on this side of the water was given by Richard Mansfield in New York, and on the same night by Augustin Daly's company in Philadelphia. Since then it has appeared for lengthy runs in all principal eastern cities, and now it comes to us, not with Mansfield as the star, but an actor who is known to be one of the best in this country, Mr. Willard Newell, supported by Miss Vail de Vernon and a large, efficient and carefully selected company of thirty people, together with all the wealth of scenery, gorgeous costumes, magnificent properties and wonderful electrical and calcium effects of the original production.

There are at present three prominent companies touring the United States and producing M. Edmond Rostand's celebrated work, "Cyrano de Bergerac." The three are headed respectively by Richard Mansfield, Willard Newell and Henry Lee. It would seem presumptuous to the student of dramatic and literary schools to claim that Mr. Newell was a greater "Cyrano" than Mr. Mansfield. Nevertheless, the critics of Indianapolis were unanimous in the opinion that Mr. Newell gave a more intelligent and charming rendition of the part than did his illustrious rival, and both have played there within the last four weeks. There is no doubt but that those who will be fortunate enough to witness Mr. Newell's production Wednesday evening will get their money's worth and be thoroughly satisfied in every way. The supporting company is undoubtedly adequate and the scenery, costume and adequate light effects are elaborate and as perfect as ingenuity and careful workmanship can make them. "Cyrano de Bergerac" is undoubtedly a difficult work to produce and any one attempting it successfully is certainly entitled to great credit and good financial returns.

HOW HE WAS IDENTIFIED.

Peculiar Circumstances Under Which an Acquaintance Was Formed.

A Cuban sugar mill owner, just now on a visit here to buy new machinery, tells to the New York Press a funny story of a meeting in Santa Clara Province. "The Spaniards," he says, "had not destroyed some of my property, as I had a brother in the army, a man of influence, so I went on a horse to ride over the plantations and see what was needed to resume business. I met a strange-looking man. He saluted me in English and said he was an American. He was thin and half starved. He was in rags and earth. He had had nothing to drink for two days. I gave him water from my canteen and he introduced himself to me as by the name of one Seelye, of whom he was sure I must have heard. I told him no, I did not know any gentleman by that name, when he said: 'Oh, you can't have forgotten the name. Don't you remember the Seelye dinner?' 'What?' said I in deep astonishment. 'The Seelye dinner as paralyzed all New York at Sherry's? What broke up the police department and had Little Egypt in art dancing on the table?' He said it was the same, and he added, 'I am that Seelye; my first name is Herbert Barnum.' Then, of course, I recognized him, and I had the pleasure of feeding him."

Fine Book Binding.

In Italy much is done to decorate books by the employment of red and blue water colors on white vellum, thereafter finishing the color off by varnishing with colorless varnish. Some most beautiful examples of this most ancient art may be seen at the national library, Florence, which is situated close to the Uffizi gallery. It is best to be provided with an introduction to the chief librarian if book-bindings are the special desiderata of the visitor.

Many people wonder how the colored edges are produced on the Florentine books. They are so simple as to be adapted to the beginner in bindings, ere he tries gilt edges. The book being tightly screwed up in the press, the edges are colored by using either a camel-hair brush or a sponge squeezed nearly dry, dipped in red or blue ink diluted with water. When the ink has dried, in the course of a few minutes, rub a piece of soft rag on a tablet of white wax and go over the inked edges with this waxed rag. Next polish with an agate burnisher, and your edge is done.

Painted edges are coming rapidly to the fore for valued books, if uncut edges are an impossibility, and skilled artists have produced beautiful effects which vie with the monastic workers of former days. Some beautiful examples of this kind of work, with views of the Italian lakes on the fore edges, painted in water color, have recently been seen. Generally speaking, to do this properly the edge must be fanned out and firmly fastened between boards. The edges must be carefully attended to in the first instance, just as if prepared by the glider, by means of a piece of broken glass used as a scraper.

A Great Parliamentarian.

Sir William Harcourt is a great English politician and has always been regarded as the leader of the liberal party until now, when he has stepped down. The Harcourts have lived at Stanton Harcourt, Oxfordshire, from the twelfth century, and it was in the old gray mansion of the first Viscount Harcourt's time that Pope finished part of his "Homer."

In the grounds of Stanton is a spacious fish pond and the view from the northern shore takes in the church, Pope's tower and the manor house. One of the oldest bits surviving on the place is the porter's lodge, and the Physicians as a class are opposed to what they call "patent medicines." It is not often they openly endorse them. Now and then, however, some doctor, who has been the eye witness of a remarkable cure by the use of Dr. Pierce's remedies, feels it a duty to tell what he knows.

Dr. Joseph Pike, of Lost Springs, Marion Co., Kansas, is such a man. He writes: "I am using your medicines in my practice. Ten years ago I had a patient who was badly affected with scrofula. Her mouth and throat were in an awful condition, and there were lumps on the outside below the jaw the size of a hen's egg. Other doctors said it was a fatal case. I felt confident that none of my remedies would benefit her. It came to my mind that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended for such cases, so I went to the drug store and bought one bottle and gave it to her to use as directed. Five bottles cured her, and she is well to-day."

For more than thirty years Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has enjoyed a far larger practice than many physicians who charge large fees for advice. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made without alcohol, and is a preparation based upon his extended experience with disease. It is a temperance medicine, pure and simple, and without alcohol, whiskey, sugar or syrup to preserve its properties, keeps perfectly in any climate for any length of time. Others may imitate the remedy; they cannot imitate its cures. Let no one talk you into using an imitation medicine as a substitute for Dr. Pierce's. Sick people who cannot visit Buffalo may consult Dr. Pierce by mail. He gives free, fatherly advice for the curing of diseases of a chronic, obstinate and lingering nature. No charge is made for such consultation.

BY SURGERY.

Any Criminal Can So Alter Himself as to Defy Recognition.

One of a party of gentlemen lounging in the office of a well-known New Orleans physician a few evenings ago, propounded a curious question, apropos of a conversation which had taken a turn toward the bizarre. "Doctor," he said, "would it be possible for a man who had committed some crime, for instance, and who had strong motives for concealing his identity, to permanently alter his whole appearance by modern surgical methods?" "Certainly," replied the doctor. "He could easily reduce his height, to begin with, by the removal of a couple of sections of bone from his legs. The operation is often performed in ordinary surgery, and a man who was, say 5 feet 8, would look very different when only 5 feet 6. But he could be changed beyond recognition by work on the face alone. His forehead could be made high and bold by the electric needle. His ears could be made to stand out or lie flat, just as desired, and his nose molded into any shape from a pug to a high Roman. The entire expression of the mouth can be altered by putting a deep wrinkle in each corner, and the eyes equally transformed by modifying the general direction of the brows. All of the operations would be of a minor character, and two months would be sufficient for the job. At the end of that time a man's own mother wouldn't know him, and he could revisit the scene of his crime with impunity. The thing is perfectly feasible theoretically, but the difficulty of finding secluded quarters and a skillful surgeon willing to lend himself to the scheme."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Milk Leg—"When my last child was born in Lockport, N. Y., in 1874, I became afflicted with milk leg in terrible form. Our family physician was faithful but could only relieve temporarily. Keeping boarders, I was on my feet a great deal. Finally the dye in some red stockings poisoned my inflamed ankles, making many sores. I was "Well, well, it does seem kind of funny that this should happen again. I have come home the last five years on this 5:30 train, still nothing of this kind has ever occurred before until the last week. It's queer, but I'll advertise this one; maybe they are mates." He drew the other from his pocket and compared them. "They are a pair as sure as I am Granville Baker; same color, size, and all." He folded them and replaced them in his pocket, took the evening paper, and settled down to read.

Mr. Baker was a bachelor and resided in W—a suburb of Boston. He was a banker in the latter city. Liked and respected by all who knew him. On two different occasions he had found on the train a glove which, after investigation, proved to be a pair. So he determined to find the owner.

In a few days, in the lost and found column, appeared:

Found—On the 5:30 train to W—a, a pair of gloves; owner can have by calling on G. W. Baker, 318 T— street, city.

The first morning a light-haired damsel arrived and asked in faltering tones if Mr. Baker was in. He smiled as he told her she was talking with that gentleman, but after questions were answered, the gloves still remained in his possession and the young lady left the office utterly disappointed.

The ad. remained in the paper over a week, yet the rightful owner had not put in an appearance, so he made up his mind to have it removed.

It was nearly time for closing as Granville Baker sat at his desk and took the gloves out of the drawer. "I guess I'll take them home as a souvenir," for, as he folded them it somehow brought to his mind bygone memories. "I wonder where she is now?" he mused. "Strange that I never meet her. Let me see, it is nearly 10 years since we parted. How foolish I was to believe such false stories, but it's past and gone now and I am the loser." He returned the gloves to his pocket, closed his desk, and prepared to leave, when a woman stepped to the door. "Is this Mr. Baker?" she asked. "Yes, madam, but we're closed now," he replied, kindly, trying to see her face through the thick veil which concealed it. "I didn't come to deposit, but came in search of my gloves." "Ah, did you lose a pair—can you describe them?" "Certainly, sir; they were light gray, with pearl buttons." He drew them from his pocket and handed them to her. "Are they yours?" he asked slowly. She gazed into his face with a pitying glance and murmured: "Yes; thank you." Was it imagination of who did that look resemble him of? He watched her as she left the office; then a feeling of remorse came over him as he seated himself in his chair and bowed his head. Why should the past come so vividly back again? Why should those gloves make him feel uncomfortable, and where had he seen that look, and why didn't he detain her a moment? but he paused and drew out his watch. "Only eight minutes to catch my train." He took his hat, but had gone only a few feet when he stopped. "Who was that I saw at the door? How I tremble. I am tired and nervous. It is gone now." He buttoned his coat up tightly and hastened to the depot.

As he took the train and started to permit the paper his mind was too disturbed, so he laid it down and gazed at the passengers. Opposite him sat the face he had seen at the door; it dazed him as before. Where had he seen it? Carefully he studied every outline and noted every change of expression, until he was fully convinced; then he rose and took the seat beside her. "Beg pardon, but are you not Miss Wilmot?" She did not blush, but sighed as she laid her hand upon his arm and gazed earnestly into his face. "No, I am not Miss Wilmot now, but I still Grace. You judged me wrong years ago, but I know you have found out differently." She ceased speaking, for she saw the words had caused him pain. In a few minutes she began: "You remember how you sent me that letter stinging rebuke? I never answered it because you accused me of so much. I went west with my father, and after he died I married for a home, but my husband was killed four years ago in Colorado, so now I have come east, hoping, perhaps, to right a cruel wrong." As she finished his heart was too full for utterance, so he pressed her hand, for he knew her face betokened a sad life.

To have just successfully gone through her fourteenth marriage ceremony is the reputation earned by Polly, the present wife of William Owens. She is but 50 years of age and looks as though she would survive her fourteenth and at least a dozen more husbands. She is the mother of six children, the result of her former marriages. She was married the first time when she was 15 years of age, and was left a widow two years later. Since then she has averaged a marriage every two years. She has secured eight or nine divorces, while death has done the releasing in the other cases. She is part Indian, her mother being a half-caste. By marriage she has relationship with half the people of Hendricks county. There is no one in Indiana who closely approaches her record. There are two or three cases of marriage the sixth time, and one case where marriage was entered into the seventh time, but she discounts that record. Young Benson Ebberts of Hendricks county, however, is in a fair way to attain a similar distinction. He has just passed his nineteenth year and is preparing to contract his fourth marriage. He was married the first time when he was but 14 years of age and his wife but 12. The marriage was upon consent of parents. He treated his wife like she was a plaything, and when he grew tired of her he slung her around like she was a doll, and scared her to death by drawing razors across her throat and throwing her on the floor and holding a red-hot poker over her. She got tired of this and went to her home. The marriage was annulled. The next two were also terminated by his arbitrary bursts of freakishness.

to the New York Press a funny story of a meeting in Santa Clara Province. "The Spaniards," he says, "had not destroyed some of my property, as I had a brother in the army, a man of influence, so I went on a horse to ride over the plantations and see what was needed to resume business. I met a strange-looking man. He saluted me in English and said he was an American. He was thin and half starved. He was in rags and earth. He had had nothing to drink for two days. I gave him water from my canteen and he introduced himself to me as by the name of one Seeley, of whom he was sure I must have heard. I told him no, I did not know any gentleman by that name, when he said: 'Oh, you can't have forgotten the name. Don't you remember the Seeley dinner?' 'What?' said I in deep astonishment. 'The Seeley dinner as paralyzed all New York at Sherry's?' What broke up the police department and had Little Egypt in art dancing on the table?' He said it was the same, and he added, 'I am that Seeley; my first name is Herbert Barnum.' Then, of course, I recognized him, and I had the pleasure of feeding him."

Fine Book Binding.

In Italy much is done to decorate books by the employment of red and blue water colors on white vellum, thereafter finishing the color off by varnishing with colorless varnish. Some most beautiful examples of this most ancient art may be seen at the national library, Florence, which is situated close to the Uffizi gallery. It is best to be provided with an introduction to the chief librarian if book-bindings are the special desiderata of the visitor.

Many people wonder how the colored edges are produced on the Florentine books. They are so simple as to be adapted to the beginner in bindings, are he tries gilt edges. The book being tightly screwed up in the press, the edges are colored by using either a camel-hair brush or a sponge squeezed nearly dry, dipped in red or blue ink diluted with water. When the ink has dried, in the course of a few minutes, rub a piece of soft rag on a tablet of white wax and go over the inked edges with this waxed rag. Next polish with an agate burnisher, and your edge is done.

Painted edges are coming rapidly to the fore for valued books, if uncut edges are an impossibility, and skilled artists have produced beautiful effects which vie with the monastic workers of former days. Some beautiful examples of this kind of work, with views of the Italian lakes on the fore edges, painted in water color, have recently been seen. Generally speaking, to do this properly the edge must be fanned out and firmly fastened between boards. The edges must be carefully attended to in the first instance, just as if prepared by the glider, by means of a piece of broken glass used as a scraper.

A Great Parliamentarian.

Sir William Harcourt is a great English politician and has always been regarded as the leader of the liberal party until now, when he has stepped down. The Harcourts have lived at Stanton Harcourt, Oxfordshire, from the twelfth century, and it was in the old gray mansion of the first Viscount Harcourt's time that Pope finished part of his "Homer." In the grounds of Stanton is a spacious fish pond and the view from the northern shore takes in the church, Pope's tower and the manor house. One of the oldest bits surviving on the place is the porter's lodge, and the arms on the gate show it was erected by Sir Simon Harcourt, who died in 1547. In those days the principal apartments stood between Pope's tower and the kitchen and the plan of the old building may be traced in the foundations and walls that remain.

It is claimed that the kitchen at Stanton Harcourt and the renowned Abbot's kitchen at Glastonbury abbey are the only two of their kind in existence. Pope described it as follows: "The kitchen is built in form of the Rotunda, being one vast vault to the top of the house, where one aperture serves to let out the smoke and let in the light. By the blackening of the walls, the circular fires, vast caldrons, yawning mouths of ovens and furnaces, you would think it either the forge of Vulcan, the cave of Polypheme or the temple of Moloch. The horror of this place has made such an impression on the country people that they believe the witches keep their Sabbath there, and that once a year the devil treats them with infernal venison—a roasted tiger stuffed with tennenny nails."

BY SURGERY.

Any Criminal Can So Alter Himself as to Defy Recognition.

One of a party of gentlemen lounging in the office of a well-known New Orleans physician a few evenings ago, propounded a curious question, apropos of a conversation which had taken a turn toward the bizarre. "Doctor," he said, "would it be possible for a man who had committed some crime, for instance, and who had strong motives for concealing his identity, to permanently alter his whole appearance by modern surgical methods?" "Certainly," replied the doctor. "He could easily reduce his height, to begin with, by the removal of a couple of sections of bone from his legs. The operation is often performed in ordinary surgery, and a man who was, say 5 feet 8, would look very different when only 5 feet 6. But he could be changed beyond recognition by work on the face alone. His forehead could be made high and bold by the electric needle. His ears could be made to stand out or lie flat, just as desired, and his nose molded into any shape from a pug to a high Roman. The entire expression of the mouth can be altered by putting a deep wrinkle in each corner, and the eyes equally transformed by modifying the general direction of the brows. All of the operations would be of a minor character, and two months would be sufficient for the job. At the end of that time a man's own mother wouldn't know him, and he could revisit the scene of his crime with impunity. The thing is perfectly feasible theoretically, but fortunately a few little things stand in the way of its practical operation—such things as time and money and the difficulty of finding secluded quarters and a skillful surgeon willing to lend himself to the scheme."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"Like Diamonds

Raindrops Glisten."

Drops of Hood's Sarsaparilla are precious jewels for the blood which glisten in their use, and, like the rain, disappear for the good of humanity. Each dose when taken is in a very short time thoroughly mixed with the blood and actively getting in its work of purification. Hood's never disappoints.

Milk Leg—"When my last child was born in Lockport, N. Y., in 1874, I became afflicted with milk leg in terrible form. Our family physician was faithful but could only relieve temporarily. Keeping boarders, I was on my feet a great deal. Finally the dye in some red stockings poisoned my inflamed ankles, making many sores. I was in continual misery, gangrene setting in five times. The bones were visible, finger and toe nails came off and my hair came out. I could not sleep without opiates. I dreaded death, but dreaded life all the more. I suffered until the spring of 1892 when our druggist suggested that I try Hood's Sarsaparilla as a last resort. The discharges gradually healed, new flesh formed, new nails and hair grew, until after taking twenty bottles I was completely cured and I naturally bless the medicine. It is now March, '95 and I am still well." * Mrs. CYNTHIA A. EDWARDS, 1127 Cleveland Av., Suspension Bridge, N. Y.

* Later. She is "still in good health." Grip—"Sixteen weeks of grip made me weak, but after all else failed Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. Later I overworked and dyspepsia and cancer in mouth and stomach bothered me. I took the Sarsaparilla again and it completely restored me." Mrs. ELIZABETH FOMAN, Exeter, N. H.

Malaria—"I was a soldier and after typhoid fever, I had fever and ague, rheumatism, and nervous prostration so that I could not work. Nothing helped until Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me completely so that I lose no time now." J. H. STILLMAN, Cheltenham, Pa.

Scrofula—"Running scrofula sores made me shunned by neighbors. Medical treatment failed. A relative urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Did so and in few months the sores completely healed." Mrs. J. M. HATCH, Etta, N. H.

tempered, and after questions were answered, the gloves still remained in the possession and the young lady left the office utterly disappointed.

The ad. remained in the paper over a week, yet the rightful owner had not put in an appearance, so he made up his mind to have it removed.

It was nearly time for closing as Granville Baker sat at his desk and took the gloves out of the drawer. "I guess I'll take them home as a souvenir," for, as he folded them it somehow brought to his mind bygone memories. "I wonder where she is now?" he mused. "Strange that I never meet her. Let me see, it is nearly 10 years since we parted. How foolish I was to believe such false stories, but it's past and gone now and I am the loser." He returned the gloves to his pocket, closed his desk, and prepared to leave, when a woman stepped to the door. "Is this Mr. Baker?" she asked. Prussians Serve Twelve Years. Compulsory service has been in force in Prussia since 1817, and in 1871 it was extended to the whole of the empire, says Chambers' Journal. Every German, with exceptions similar to those in France, must serve twelve years in the army or navy. The term of service includes two years with the colors in the standing army (three years in the cavalry and artillery), four years in the reserve of the standing army, two years in the Landwehr and four in the Landsturm. On leaving the active army and passing into the reserves the men may be refused permission to emigrate during their first year of civil life.

After the standing army has been recruited to its full strength each year, the surplus conscripts are enrolled in the Ersatztruppen and for twelve years undergo annual training. Until the age of 42 all Germans, whether they have served in the active army or only in the Ersatztruppen, are liable to be called upon to serve in the Landsturm. In the infantry, men of good education are allowed, under certain conditions, to purchase their discharge after one year's service.
